Urban GPS Eco-Challenge
Far-sighted Bendites reclaimed one-time industrial mill land smack on the Deschutes River and turned it into a stunning green belt through the city of Bend, Oregon. This transformed land which offers terrific glimpses into the natural world's past has been integrated into Wanderlust Tours' Urban GPS Eco-Challenge course!

Whether you experience our GPS course on a corporate team-building activity or with family and friends, its intrigue and unique qualities will keep you talking long after the course challenge has been taken on.

The Wanderlust Tours' mission has once again been brought to life and incorporated into this fun course similar to geocaching. You will not only smile with delight and satisfaction during the course but you will learn about Bend's history and natural world AND learn great skills in working and communicating with others.
